What are Employee Resource Groups?

Employee Resource Groups are voluntary, employee-led groups whose aim is to foster a diverse, inclusive workplace aligned with the organizations they serve.
What are Employee Resource Groups?

They are usually led and participated in by employees who share a characteristic, whether it's gender, ethnicity, religious affiliation, lifestyle, or interest. The groups exist to provide support and help in personal or career development and to create a safe space where employees can bring their whole selves to the table. Allies may also be invited to join the ERG to support their colleagues. They do not have to have agency approval to exist.
What are Affinity Groups?

Affinity groups are gathering opportunities for people who share a common identity. They provide opportunities for people to connect with other people who share aspects of their identity, especially in situations in which aspects of their identity are in the minority or are marginalized.

Affinity groups are tied to a National Group put in place by mandates. They have paid memberships and represent a particular underrepresented group of people in the workforce. They do not have to have agency approval to exist.

Asian Heritage Month flyer, May 2020

MAY IS ASIAN PACIFIC AMERICAN HERITAGE MONTH

Asian Pacific American Heritage Month (APAHM) is celebrated in May to commemorate the history, culture and contributions of Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders in the U.S. May was chosen to commemorate the arrival of the first Japanese immigrants to America on May 7, 1843, and to mark the anniversary of the completion of the transcontinental railroad (by many Chinese laborers) on May 10, 1869. In 1992, the official designation of May as APAHM was signed into law.

A Special Tribute to Bell Masayuki Shimada

Bell M. Shimada was born in Seattle, Washington, on January 17, 1922, to Japanese immigrant parents. He showed an early aptitude for math and science, but his later studies at the University of Washington School of Fisheries were interrupted by the forced internment of Japanese citizens and nationals during World War II. In May 1943 he was allowed to leave the camp to enlist in the U.S. Army, joining the famed 442nd Regimental Combat Team. Selected for his language and intelligence skills, Shimada served in Honolulu and Guam and (post-war) in Japan, eventually as a civilian fisheries biologist for the Allied Forces.

Finishing his MA Degree at UW in 1948, Shimada then returned to Honolulu and started work with the US Fish and Wildlife Service Pacific Ocean Fisheries Investigations (POFI) office under Oscar Elton Sette. Shimada served as a seagoing biologist, in charge of shipboard science watches and research.

In 1952 he was assigned to the Inter-American Tropical Tuna Commission, co-located with Scripps Institute of Oceanography and the USFWS Bureau of Fisheries in La Jolla, California. Shimada conducted tuna fishery research for which he is best known during his time with the IATT Commission and achieved national and international recognition when he began to publish his research on tuna spawning, distribution, and feeding patterns. In 1956 he completed his PhD at UW’s School of Fisheries. Shimada’s combined work with both oceanographer Townsend Cromwell and fisheries scientist Oscar Elton Sette and other members of the POFI and IATT Commission teams led to some of the most productive insights on the distribution of tuna throughout the Pacific Ocean.

In 1958 research project plans called for Shimada and Cromwell to make one more cruise to Clarion Island (offshore of Baja, Mexico) on board the Scripps Institution research ship Horizon. Shimada was due to soon leave his position and begin as the first director of the USFWS Bureau of Commercial Fisheries Eastern Pacific Tuna Investigations office. Bell M. Shimada died in a plane crash at Guadalajara on June 2, 1958, at the young age of 36. NOAA’s research ship Bell M. Shimada (R 227) is named in his honor. (His son Allen later became a fisheries scientist with NOAA’s National Marine Fisheries Service.)

Blacks In Government
(BIG)
NOAA CHAPTER
Blacks In Government (BIG) and the NOAA Chapter (NOAA BIG)

- BIG was established in 1975 by Equal Employment Opportunity practitioners of the Public Health Services.
- BIG serves in an employee advocacy role for African American public servants employed within the Federal, State, and Local Government.
- NOAA BIG is a chapter within the national affinity group Blacks In Government and is a member of Region XI, representing the Washington, D.C. Metropolitan area.
- NOAA BIG is a member of the Combined Federal Campaign, and has been an employee resource partner with NOAA since 1995.
GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

- Promote equity, excellence and opportunity through employee advocacy, professional development of African Americans and others dedicated to justice and equity at all levels of government.

- To develop and promote programs which enhance ethnic pride and educational opportunities for African Americans.

- To establish a mechanism for gathering and disseminating information for African Americans in Government.

- To promote professionalism among African Americans in Government.
Accomplishments

Supported NOAA Kids Day with workshops and cash donations to the ice cream social

Conducted numerous employee development training seminars opened to NOAA employees and contractors

Conducted numerous programs with NOAA Leadership participation as speakers

Supported the James D. Martin/Shepherd Elementary School Science Fair and the Hyattsville Elementary School STEM Fair with judges and/or cash donations for refreshments

Promoted African American History and NOAA sciences with an annual Black History Trivia Game usually held in February

Launched a successful pilot mentoring program in the Washington D.C. Metropolitan Area
Accomplishments Cont’d

DPA WG Goals

Recruitment

- Collaborate with the NOAA Education Council, Workforce Management Office, and Line/Staff Office EEO Representatives to increase opportunities to engage DPA WG members in targeted recruitment activities.
- Engage with the DIMAC, NOAA affinity groups, and other Line and Staff Office representative groups to coordinate and support recruitment activities across the agency.
- Use the DPA WG network to enhance awareness of NOAA science and career opportunities among minorities to include K-12, undergraduate, graduate, and professionals.

Retention

- Create intentional opportunities for career, professional, educational development, and training for underrepresented minorities.
- Assess data-driven approaches to organizational accountability to retention and promotion of underrepresented minorities.
- Advocate for stay/exit interviews as standard practice and address quality of life policies.

Advancement

- Identify barriers to career advancement for underrepresented minorities and support institutional transformation with the aim to remove structural inequalities.
- Support and enhance current mentoring programs and executive coaching relationships at NOAA and across the Federal government in order to achieve demographic parity of NOAA’s Senior Leadership.
- Establish best practices to identify, increase, and plan opportunities for career advancement.
DPA WG Priorities

● Recruitment
  ○ Cross NOAA Collaborative Recruitment
  ○ Coordination with NOAA Office of Education

● Retention
  ○ Create intentional opportunities for career, professional, educational development, and training
  ○ Advocate for stay/exit interviews as standard practice and address quality of life policies

● Advancement
  ○ Support development of best practices on diverse hiring panels
  ○ Develop and support networking and mentorship opportunities
  ○ Provide an informal network to review opportunities for advancement (new positions, details, etc)
Key Accomplishments

• Numerous Scientific and Leadership Awards
  • NOAA Administrator’s Award 2016
  • Nine members in LCDP (LCDP Cohorts IX, X, XI, X)
  • BLAST - Building Leaders for A Solid Tomorrow (NWS Southern Region Leadership Program)
  • Women of Color Award 2019, 2020 (7)
  • Black Engineer of the Year (BEYA) Award 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020 (10)

• In the summer of 2020, met with NOAA leadership at all levels of the organization to discuss and recommend strategies to address barriers to retention and advancement from underrepresented groups within NOAA. This included DPAWG’s development of a set of recommendations for ways the Leadership Competencies Development Program (LCDP) could become a more inclusive program.

• Planned and hosted two webinars with the Office of Civil Rights on the federal job application process. Second webinar contained a mock-interview panel that invited all NOAA ERGs members to view and contained specific guidance on successfully completing a federal job interview.

• Led coordination and implementation of engagement at the National Technical Association (NTA) and Society Advancement of Chicanos/Hispanics and Native American in Science (SACNAS) conferences.

• Planned and hosted a webinar titled “Senior Executive Service Resume Writing Best Practices” that was uploaded to the Commerce Learning Center. Webinar had a total of 82 participants from several NOAA ERGs attend.

• Hosted a FY20 Chili Cook-Off to provide a social outlet for DPA and NOAA staff, spread more awareness of diversity within NOAA, and to collect donations for the NOAA foodbank.
Thank you!
